

Judy Barcomb

My name is Judy Barcomb, and I am running for one of the vacant positions on our LCV HOA Board. I was born and raised in Springfield, Vermont and moved to Burlington after college. In 1980, I found a job working for (what was then) Ayerst Laboratories, Inc. I have lived in Lake Country Village since 2014. I have two grown children, Nick and Chelsea and 3 grandchildren.

I previously served on the Ayerst Athletic Association Board from 1987 through 2003 as Secretary/Treasurer and I also served on the Adirondack Humane Society Board from 2012 through 2014 as a Member-at-Large. I retired from Wyeth/Ayerst (Pfizer) Rouses Point, in 2012, after 32 years as an Administrative Assistant and then worked part time for 5 years at Alliance for Positive Health. Being retired, I now feel that I have the time to devote to assisting in the day-to-day “operations” at Lake Country Village.

I have been heavily involved with the Communications Committee over the last 4 years, including assisting in the development of a comprehensive Owners Handbook, which was approved by the Board in July 2023 and in the selection and implementation of our new “Buildium” Property Management Software. I am sure my name has become familiar while sending out many Announcements and general communications to the LCV homeowners. With the new software, new Property Manager, and new Board, I think the timing is right and I hope to make a difference in our LCV community.

I will strive to increase better communication between residents and the Board, including receiving answers to requests or inquiries in a timely manner and solving them. I feel “open” communications is the key to success for any organization and I have sometimes been called an “over communicator” while keeping confidentiality in mind, when appropriate. I am willing to help and listen to all owners’ concerns and address them with an open mind.
